

DLA Piper ranks second in Thomson Reuters Global Elite Law Firm Brand Index

DLA Piper has once again been named the second most powerful global legal brand in the Thomson Reuters Global Elite Law Firm Brand index (formerly the Acritas Global Elite Brand Index). The ranking is based on interviews with 1,700 senior legal buyers across the world's largest multinationals with revenues in excess of USD$1 billion. The index measures the strength of law firms' brand across the following metrics: consideration for multi-jurisdictional deals and litigation, top-of-mind awareness and favorability.

Over the last 12 years, DLA Piper has consistently featured in the Index's top ten and has ranked in the top three since 2015.

DLA Piper's Global Co-CEO, Simon Levine, said: "These are unprecedented times and we continue to be called upon by our clients around the world to handle their most complex and challenging matters, a role that we are uniquely suited to play. This ranking reinforces our role as trusted and invested advisors and we are proud to serve in this capacity."

Frank W. Ryan, Global Co-Chair, Global Co-CEO and Americas Chair of DLA Piper, said: "Our firm was built to help clients around the world navigate growth and change, and it's an honor to be recognized for our work as we continue to execute on a bold global strategy."
